

UP THE RIVER.

Truckee Will Boom, Tra
La Lal

Reno's Western Sister Town.

The JOURNAL is always rejoiced to chronicle good news of the town, along the Truckee, and the annexed notes from the Truckee Republican, of Wednesday, indicate a prosperous season for the town by the mountain side.

TROUBLESOME TRAMPS.

For the past three or four days the town has been full of tramps and they are the toughest, dirtiest and "sassiest" set which has struck the town for a long time. Some of them showed an amount of impudence that was simply paralyzing. Here is a partial record of their doings:

One came to a house at the upper end of the town and asked for food which was refused. He then commenced to abuse and call her such names that she was nearly frightened to death. He went away and came back again with a revolver, broke in the door and stole a ham.

Other housewives in the vicinity have been nearly frightened to death by them. Monday evening a gentleman and his wife were walking along and a tramp asked the gentleman for some money. It was refused and he then asked the wife. He also stopped a young girl and begged money of her and again from a lady who was without escort.

Monday night an attempt was made to enter the residence of D. J. Smith and an attempt was also made to burglarize the residence of W. H. Kruger.

The same night two persons stole a stove from a cabin a little mile below Ellen's lumber yard. It was found at the cabin of some men who work at the round house. They claim to have bought it of two men who said that they had been "batching" near by and wanted to sell the stove.

Two tramps were locked up by Constable McNeill Monday night, but no charge was made against them and they were directed to leave town which they did. The many things above reported to be done were not given to the officers in time for them to find the guilty parties and it is supposed that they have left town.

Whenever anybody has any information concerning the commission of acts like those above stated, no time should be lost before reporting it to the officers. Then the officers must be very vigilant.

TRUCKEE WILL BOOM.

The statement has often been made that Truckee is dead and that there will never be a return to permanent prosperity; that the coming season would be the last in the history of the town. The Republican takes issue with this statement and predicts that the season of 1889 will be the liveliest experienced for a number of years. We have heard it stated that a number of improvements are to be made in this vicinity this year which will require the expenditure of a large amount of coin. The circulation of coin is what makes a prosperous community. The Republican has been told that the following improvements are to be made this year:

Large ice works will be constructed by Brickell & Kruger, which will probably cost $40,000.

Lewis & Smith talk of building a box factory at Coldstream to cost at least $5,000.

A new school house will be built to cost over $5,000.

The Tahoe Ice Co. will probably construct a large ice pond and build another large house.

There is talk of another ice company being formed with large works near Truckee.

Another ice house will probably be built at Boca.

It is said that A. M. Wickes will build a sawmill near Bronco.

If these things are done at least $100,000 will be expended in this vicinity this year.

Let those who are predicting a dull year and an early death of Truckee take a back seat and stay there.

A NEW ICE COMPANY.

The outcome of the recent corner in ice by the Union Ice Co. is to start an opposition company, exactly as was predicted by the Republican two weeks ago. Brickell & Kruger are about to construct a large pond just above the mill of the Truckee Lumber Company, where there is a large flat well adapted for the formation of a large pond. It is said that the new ice pond will have an area of about sixty acres and a productive capacity of fifty thousand tons of ice. This would be equal to half of the crop of ice put up during the past winter by all of the companies along the river, and would be sufficient to create a very healthy opposition to the monopoly. It will be a great benefit to Truckee to have such extensive works so near town and in the construction of the necessary dams and buildings during the summer a large force of workmen will be employed and the direct benefit to the community will be great. Contracts for the construction of the necessary dams will be let immediately, and those desiring such a contract are referred to the advertisement published in another column.

ELICIT FISHING.

It is a fact that a large amount of illegal fishing is being done at Donner Creek. The trout there are now spawning and the creek is said to be black with them. Indians and many white men stand on the banks and with spears, grabhooks and shaves carry away sackful every day. No one, not even Indians, has any right to do this and if the practice is continued there will be but few fish left. Parties who buy such fish are equally guilty and unless the illegal practice is stopped there will be some prosecutions. All good citizens who may have any information which will implicate any one in the commission of such crimes owe it to themselves and to the community to report the facts to the officers. The practice must be stopped at once.

NEW ROADS.

The residents of this township have petitioned the Board of Supervisors to extend the county road from Camp 18 to Camp 20, a distance of two and one-half miles. The Supervisors have appointed O. E. Uren, J. M. Durney and Albert Patnam as the viewers. This will be a great convenience for the ice companies down the river. It is also expected that there will also be a petition sent in for the construction of a county road to the works of the Tahoe Ice Co. While the Supervisors are considering road matters, it would be well to have arrangements to repair the road from Donner lake to the Summit. It would be a great benefit to Truckee to have that road put in repair.

NEW ELECTRICIAN.

The Electric Light Co. has a new electrician in the person of a gentleman named Wayman. He evidently understands his business for he immediately discovered an injury to the dynamo which had existed since the first operation. He remedied the defect yesterday and henceforth the company apprehend that there will be no more trouble with the lights and no more complaints will be made concerning the inefficiency of the lights.

A WRECK.

The first railroad wreck for a long time occurred last Tuesday morning about 3 o'clock. Freight train No. 5 was coming down the hill and when nearing the Coldstream wood shed it was discovered that a pile of wood had fallen upon the track. The speed of the train was checked but not sufficient to prevent colliding with the obstruction. The head engine was turned over on its side. The wrecking and section men went to the scene and laid a temporary track around the obstruction. Trains were delayed about four hours. No one was injured.

The Controller of the Currency has issued a statement showing the condition of the national banks in the United States on February 26th. The number of banks is 2,170, being a net increase of about one hundred in the last year. The resources are $2,837,406,213 93, of which the loans and discounts aggregated over half, and the specie on hand amounted to $183,284,503. Of the liabilities the capital stock amounted to $596,569 70; the surplus, $192,458,759 90; individual deposits, $1,354,973,535 80, and dividends unpaid, $338,706 37.

The San Francisco Chronicle says reports from all parts of California show that grain, fruit and feed promise a greater yield than has ever been known, independently of the fact that the increase in acreage is as high in some sections as one-third, especially in the southern counties. Apricots are likely to be rather light in the central counties, but in the southern portion of the State the yield will probably be the largest ever secured.

The Rev. Dr. Scott, President Harrison's father-in-law, keeps steadily at work at his desk in the Pension Office. Shortly after the election Mrs. Harrison wrote to her father asking him to quit work and live at the White House, but the old gentleman sturdily refused the temptation and said that he had been so long used to the routine of his office that he could not give it up.

A special dispatch from Pendleton, Or., says: Reports from John Day say that several hundred sheep have been poisoned there by cattle men. Cattle and horse men have sworn that no sheep shall summer on their range. Serious trouble is feared.

Condition of the Mines.

From the best information that the Enterprise can derive, the Comstock mines are looking well. Con. Cal. Va. is making a splendid showing this month. Confidence has resumed the payment of dividends. Savage and Hale & Norcross are making large shipments of bullion. The water in the Carson river will hold out its usual period. Crown Point shipped $45,600 in March. The Hale & Norcross southwest crosscut on the 700 level is in 30 feet diagonally in ore, 12 of which is fine grade. It is believed to be a strong development, as it is west of any ore body yet found in the mine and differing materially in its character.

The Special Election.

The Clerk of Storey county has been instructed to correspond with the Clerks of the various counties in the State to ascertain if the Boards of County Commissioners will stand their proportion of the cost of bringing suit to recover the full amounts of bills allowed by the various Boards to defray the cost of the special State elections held February 11.

Change of Proprietors.

The Alturas New Era says: James W. Poor and Lafa Billups have purchased the interest of Kemble & Ewing in the Modoc Stables, paying therefor $5,600, a decided bargain, as these stables are the best paying property in Alturas. We are heartily glad that Jim has become possessed of the property, as he has the reputation of being an A 1 stable man—the Hi Skadan of Modoc.

The Elko Independent, of Wednesday, says:

Russell & Bradley's men commenced today to gather a large herd of cattle which will be driven to Montana on account of short range. Russell & Bradley and Mason & Bradley will move over 7,000 head north during the present season.

A. Mr. Cameron, Ass't to the President of the Union Pacific, is down on the C. & C. with Supt. Yerington. The Union Pacific folks are evidently viewing out the Nevada country.

Saturday night is generally lively, and last night was no exception to the rule, the streets being crowded, impressing one with the belief that Reno is fast becoming a city.

John W. Mackay and Francis G. Newlands will be back home in two or three days, and Senator Jones and Alvinza Hayward will also soon return. It is expected that their presence will put some life in the market.

Services at the Baptist Church this morning and evening. Rev. C. L. Fisher, Pastor. Subject for 11 A. M. "Three Drops of Honey from the Rock Christ." Sabbath School at 12:15 P. M. Subject for 7:30 P. M. "The Compassion of Christ to the Greatest Sinner." Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30 P. M. An invitation to all.

Service at the M. E. Church to-day at 11 A. M. and at 7:30 P. M. Morning subject: "The Bush that Burned with Fire and Was Not Consumed." Evening Subject: "That Ragged Boy's Brother."

State Fair Races.

The Executive Committee of the State Board of Agriculture held a meeting yesterday afternoon and prepared a programme of the races for the State Fair. The races were made for all ages and distances, with several thousand dollars as added money. The totals include a $1,500 free for all, a $1,200 purse for the 2:20 class, a $1,000 for the 2:23 class, and $900 for the 2:27 class. The purse for the free for all pacing race was made $1,000, and for the 2:20 pacing class $800. No races were made for District horses exclusively. It is believed the programme will attract the best horses on the Coast to our State Fair.

Little Fish.

Fish Commissioner Mills will be down from Carson Tuesday night with 30,000 or 40,000 little Eastern brook and Mackinaw trout for the Truckee. They are too young to be placed in the river at once, and Lindsay, Chamberlain, Evans and others, have had a pond made for them up on Charley Stoddard's farm, west of Powning's Addition. In this pond 30x50 feet, and into which fresh water will be constantly run, the little ones will be fed on liver and other good things for the next three months, at the end of which time they will be large and strong enough to throw into the river.

The Inquest.

Coroner Peers is holding the examination of the cause of the death of Harry Wilson and J. W. Mysegard before a jury, and the investigation will take some time. Cross, the brakeman, and Thatcher, the engineer of No. 9, the east-bound train, have been on the stand.

At Wadsworth.

The Union Pacific surveyors are at Wadsworth, and have been there for four or five days. They will be at Reno soon.

The Minstrels.

The Louisville Post says of the Minstrel troupe which will give a performance at the McKissick Opera House to-morrow night:

McNish, Ramza & Arno's Minstrels opened the Masonic Temple Theater last night to an audience which filled every seat up stairs and down, and utilized all the standing room. The general verdict was that the show is excellent from beginning. There are several new departures from old-time minstrelsy and a number of surprises that take well. The house was kept in a roar during the entire evening, and went away well pleased. The performance begins after the manner of all minstrels. The vocalization did not come up to expectations. The best feature of the singing was John D. Linton's "Maid of the Mill," and it was remarkable only from the fact that he displayed a contralto voice of considerable range.

Cheverie, the violinist, executed the mocking bird song with a decidedly artistic finish, and afterward united with his performance some acrobatic feats. He concluded with extracting music from the violin with a comb, a razor, a dipper, a shoe and a wash-board. He made a decided bit.

Low Benedict's oratorical specialty on the topics of the day was fresh, sparkling and witty, and was none too long. He was followed by Frank McNish in "Silence and Fun." The Kryers do some remarkable clog dancing and Ramza and Arno, in their pantomime and horizontal bar performances are very fine.

Tom Donnelly, in his comedy specialty, sings with great effect: "The Board Bill That never came."

The performance closes with an after-piece called "The Invalid's Hotel." It is full of funny situations and well worth remaining to see.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw-ly.

Auction of Buggies and Wagons.

I will sell at auction, in order to make room for a new invoice of goods, Saturday, April 6th, a fine lot of buggies, wagons and carts. Most of these goods are new, and some are of the best manufacture. The sale to commence at 2 P. M., in front of the Opera House Dry Goods Store.

W. J. LUKK, Auctioneer.

The Lyon County Times remarks:

The Reno JOURNAL has turned another volume and celebrates the event by widening and lengthening its columns to the standard measure. The Reno Gazette has also begun another volume. Both are excellent papers. They labor faithfully for Washoe county, Reno especially.

The Elko Free Press says:

The Reno JOURNAL has completed its 30th volume and 15th year. It has been a leading factor in the prosperity of Reno, and is still keeping up its good work in that direction.

WHAT ON EARTH

Is the reason people will not, can not or do not see any difference in cheap nostrums put up by cheap John houses or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? No medicine in the world is giving such unparalleled satisfaction for purifying the blood as BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD MAKER, and every bottle that does not do its work will cost you nothing.

THE OLD RELIABLE FURNITURE HOUSE OF JOHN

Breuner is well worthy of note, and we take pleasure in devoting to it due space and attention. Mr. Breuner has been engaged in this business for thirty-three years and conducts one of the largest business houses in California. He manufactures and deals in all kinds of furniture and bedding, and has established a most enviable celebrity for the excellence of the goods turned out by his house. He carries a very large stock, embracing all grades and kinds of furniture and quotes prices that defy competition. His goods are all first-class, made of the best material and first-class workmanship, and the people cannot find a more advantageous house to deal with. He carries a supply of photographs of all goods, which will be sent free of charges to any address, and by this method people at a distance can select goods at home as well as in person at his house, and may rest assured of being satisfactorily and fairly treated by him. This is a most convenient and pleasant method for those abroad, and we recommend a trial of it.

CURIOUS WAGERS.

EXAMPLES OF "FOOLS' ARGUMENTS" OUT OF THE MUSTY PAST.

Men Who Made Shows of Themselves to Win Bets—Laying Large Sums on the Result of Trifling Affairs—A Race Between Drops of Water.

It has been remarked that "a collection of foolish wagers would make a voluminous work," and so odd are some of these "fools' arguments," as Butler pithily terms them in his "Hudibras," that a selection of some of the most curious may prove not uninteresting.

During the last century, when, particularly in club life, the least difference of opinion frequently ended in a bet, many remarkable and eccentric wagers were made.

In 1739 a poulterer of Leadenhall market betted £50 he would walk 202 times round the area of Upper Moorfields in twenty-seven hours; and accordingly proceeded at the rate of five miles an hour on the amusing pursuit, "to the infinite improvement of his business and great edification of hundreds of spectators."

To characterize the follies of the day it will be necessary to add to the account of the walking man another of a hopping man, who engaged, in December, 1731, to hop 500 yards in fifty hops in St. James' park. He performed the feat in forty-six.

TRIALS OF SPEED.

In February, 1770, a bet was laid by a noble earl that he should find a man who would ride to Edinburgh and back again to London in less time than another noble earl should make a million dots in the most expeditious manner he could contrive.

In September, 1789, a Col. Ross set out from London for York, on a wager with a Mr. Pigot of 800 guineas that he reached his destination in forty-eight hours on the same horse. He performed the journey three hours within the time.

On the 17th of May, 1817, a respectable farmer of Kirton-Lindsey, for a wager of a few pounds, undertook to ride a pony up two pairs of stairs into a chamber of the George inn and down again, which feat he actually performed before a numerous company, whose astonishment was heightened by the rider being upward of eleven stone weight and his horse less than thirty stone. They were weighed after the feat, to decide another wager.

In The Annual Register for 1788 we find the following: "A young Irish gentleman, for a very considerable wager, set out on Monday, Sept. 23, to walk to Constantinople and back again in one year. It is said that the young gentleman has £30,000 depending on the performance of the exploit."

The Earl of March, on laying a bet that he would cause a message to be dispatched a certain distance quicker than any horse could convey it, won his wager by inclosing the message in a cricket ball, which was thrown from hand to hand by relays of professional cricketers. As Duke of Queensberry, he betted 1,000 guineas that he would produce a man who would eat more at a meal than any one whom Sir John Lade could find. The duke was informed of his success—being present at the achievement—by the following bulletin from the field of battle: "My lord, I have not time to state particulars, but merely to acquaint your grace that your man beat his antagonist by an apple pie."

BETTING ON DEATH.

At White's coffee house, where, during the last century, gaming was carried on to heavy amounts, a book was always laid upon the table for entering wagers, and in these betting books, some of which still exist, may be found bets on all conceivable subjects: on marriages, births, deaths; on the duration of a ministry, on the chance of an election, on a rascal's risk of the halter or the shock of an earthquake.

Walpole, writing to Sir Horace Mann, Sept. 1, 1730, says: "They have put into the papers a good story made at White's. A man dropped down dead at the door and was carried in. The club immediately made bets whether he was dead or not; and when they were going to bleed him, the wagers for his death interposed, and said it would affect the fairness of the bet."

Certain it is that during this period no subject appears to have been too serious for a bet; and that nothing was considered too trivial a medium, the following lines, founded on fact, bear witness:

The Ducks had dined, and deep in council sat:
The woe was brilliant, but their wit grew flat.
Up starts his lordship to the window flies,
And lo! "A race! a race!" in rapture cries.
"Where?" "Quoth Sir John—" "Why, see two drops of rain."

Start from the summit of the crystal pane;
A thousand pounds which drop, with nimble force,
Performs its current down the slippery course."
The bets were made; in dire surprise they wait
For victory, pendant on the nod of Fate.

Now down the sash, unconscious of the prize,
The bubbles roll, like pearls from Chloë's eyes.
But, ah! the glittering joys of life are short;
How oft two jostling steeds have spoiled the sport!

So, this attraction, by coercive laws,
Th' approaching drops into one bubble draws.
Each curd his fate that thus their project crossed;
How hard their lot, who neither won nor lost!

—Chambers' Journal.

Treatment of Burns.

A physician writes: "Quite often I see formulas for the treatment of burns. As I have been burned all over my body, excepting the soles of my feet, upon which I stood while being burnt, so severely that twelve physicians said I could not live, you will see why I am so interested in such formulas. Please say from me that the free use of soft soap upon a fresh burn will remove the fire from the flesh in less time than it takes to write these words. If the burn be severe, after relief from the pain use linseed oil, and then sit upon it wheat flour. When this is dried hard, repeat the oil and flour until a complete covering is obtained. Let this dry until it falls off, and a new skin will be formed without a scar. This treatment leaves nothing more to be desired."—Herald of Health.

Perquisites at the Austrian Court.

Nothing except the linen, plate, china and glass is ever served twice at the tables of the Austrian court. Some of the servants have as their perquisites the bottles which have come up to the dining room but have not been uncorked; others the uncorked bottles, and others again the wine that remains in the glasses. Therefore it is the interest of one set of servants to keep the glasses full; of another set to draw as many corks as possible while parting with as little wine as they can, and of a third set to draw corks sparingly. As regards the food, too, there are different orders of claimants for perquisites, one man having a vested interest in the joints, another in the poultry, a third in the sweet dishes, and so on. Then there are the men to whom the wax candles belong, and these naturally make a rush to blow out the candles the moment the last guest has walked out of the room. And, incredible as it may sound, there is a basement corridor in the palace which is like a bazaar full of shops. Here not only the keepers of small hotels and restaurants, but the cooks of many ladies belonging to the second class official, come to buy cold meats, pastry, sweetmeats, wines and candles. There is one sort of Tokay which can only be bought from the court servants, as none is made except for the emperor, and it is to be presumed that the uncorked bottles of champagne and other fine wines are generally sold by the dozen, and they must form a very substantial perquisite. —Boston Transcript.

Cars for the Dead.

The Brill car works at Thirty-first and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia, have just finished three street cars designed to transport the dead in Buenos Ayres. The cars are unique in construction and are the first of the kind made in this country. They are first, second and third class, the first being designed to carry the body of a wealthy individual, the last the corpse of a pauper. The first class car is very handsome. The body is a rich black, toned with purple, with passion flowers painted on the sides. The windows are of French plate glass. The seats, folding up against the sides, are upholstered in black plush, and the window curtains are black cloth trimmed with gold bullion.

In the forward end of the car is an altar, with silver cross and candelabra, while on either side the altar are cathedral purple stained glass windows. The interior of the car is finished in white and gold. The metal work is nickel plated and handsome in design. On the top nine large sable plumes are placed. The other cars are much simpler and plainer in design, and the third class car has merely a row of shelves for the coffins. These cars are intended to run on the street car tracks in Buenos Ayres, and will be switched off on a side track nearest the house of the dead person. The body is carried on a bier to the car, placed inside, the mourners seat themselves around, horses are attached, and the car proceeds on its way to the cemetery. —Philadelphia Times.

Women Ought Not to Toil.

I think the women who have been engaged in the struggle for equal rights have done some good for women in the direction of obtaining equal wages for equal work. There has also been for many years a tendency among women in our country to become independent—a desire to make their own living—to win their own bread. So many husbands are utterly useless, or worse, that many women hardly feel justified in depending entirely on a husband for the future. They feel somewhat safer to know how to do something and earn a little money themselves.

If men were what they ought to be, few women would be allowed to labor—that is to say, to toil. It should be the ambition of every healthy and intelligent man to take care of, to support, to make happy, some woman. As long as women bear the burdens of the world the human race can never attain anything like a splendid civilization. There will be no great generation of men until there has been a great generation of women. For my part, I am glad to hear this question discussed—glad to know that thousands of women take some interest in the fortunes and in the misfortunes of their sisters.—Robert G. Ingersoll.

China as a Manufacturing Center.

Li Hung Chang is reported as saying: "Before half a century has passed China will be covered with railways as with a net. Its immense mineral resources will be developed. It will have rolling mills and furnaces in many parts of the country, and it is not impossible that it may do the manufacturing for the world." The victory is exceedingly sanguine, but there is no immediate reason for American and European manufacturers being frightened at the prospect of the competition of the Flowery Kingdom. A place once lost is rarely recovered. The Chinese were once the leaders of the world, and fell behind in the race. It is not likely that they will again take the lead. Turkey was once in advance of Europe.—Railway World.

The Same Stick.

First Physician—What utter idiocy! Here are a lot of American actors protesting against the importation of foreign actors. Second Physician—Yes, just like the ignorant laborers who want their own countrymen shut out so as to keep up prices. But we must be going. "Yes, it won't do to be late at the medical convention. Our votes will be needed to keep these impudent women doctors out of the female wards of our hospitals, and besides, we want a big majority on the motion to debar young Dr. Wiseman for advertising in the papers." —Philadelphia Record.

The late William Woolsey, of Hartford county, Md., was a philanthropist with ideas of his own. He has left nearly $100,000 to be expended on certain designated roads in that county provided the county commissioners spend an equal sum on them.

A Washington dispatch to the Omaha Bee says: "With the exception of Utah and Alaska, President Harrison intends to make all the appointments in the Territories from residents thereof. Nothing will prevent this policy except snails and contents arising over aspirants. President Harrison is trying to give the inhabitants of the Territories all possible attention and courtesy. He believes that the people in Territories have sufficient intelligence and integrity to govern themselves. This has never been done by other Presidents, and it is largely due to the President's experience on the Senate Committee on Territories and the experience and influence of his son, Russell, who has seen a good deal of Territorial life in Montana and other sections of the far west. Both of the Harrison's believe that people outside of the Territories should not be put in control of Federal matters in the Territories and they are working together to permit that class of people who have heretofore been deprived of their franchise to have a voice in securing control of their own government."

The State Department is officially notified by Chile of her acceptance of the invitation to participate in the convention of the American States at Washington in October. This is considered important. Several prominent South American countries have been holding off, but Chile's acceptance is expected to bring in all the others.

Joseph W. Corning, who has just been appointed Postmaster of Palmyra, N. Y., has the distinction of having formerly held that office by appointment of the other President Harrison.
